

Jim Yoshimura

Vice President, Operations

Jim Yoshimura is the Vice President of Operations for Innova Solutions. He and his team are responsible for the entire life cycle of supporting newly hired consultants across all lines of business, including onboarding, time management, consultant care, third-party vendor management, referrals, and redeployment.

Under his leadership, the Operations Team is committed to superior service and a process excellence culture for our external consultants and internal customers.

Jim has over 30 years of experience in the professional services industries, including consulting, staffing, and outsourcing. Before Innova, he held leadership positions in organizations such as MCI, EDS, Comsys, Manpower, and Diversant.

He and his wife currently reside in Nashville, TN.
